

LEADERS LOST TO TRAILERS

Laconia Played a Snappy Clean Game of Ball

THE LOCALS MADE ERRORS

Fraser Received a Hard Bumping and the Visitors Made Their Seven Hits Count—B-M's Nine Hits Went for Little.

Saturday's league ball game between Barre-Montpelier and Laconia was one of those contests in which the really superior team seems to have temporarily lost the combination to a successful offense and defense, and so the leaders lost to the New Hampshire team by the score of 8 to 1. Even at that, there is no desire to belittle the work of Laconia. The visitors really played a splendid game and deserved the victory, backing up Brown without an error.

Brown threw the salivary spheroid with deadly effect at critical points and when his mound runs he had the local batters either fouling out or popping easy flies to the infield. The nine hits went for eight except in the first inning when Barre-Montpelier scored its only run on Murphy's single. Monahan's sacrifice and Harris' corking two-bagger. Only twice after that did the locals outscore the game for Laconia. One of these two occasions was in the fourth when with one down Fraser and Rudolph singled, Clemmings popped an infield fly which Dyer dropped. Under the rules the batsman was out anyway. But both Fraser and Rudolph, thinking they were forced, started for third and second, respectively. Fraser was therefore third and an easy out. In the eighth Murphy and Monahan singled. Harris tried to advance them and sent up a pop to Ward, who at once doubled Monahan. Center singled, but the best Ball could do was to give Ward a putout.

Jack Fraser got his hardest bumping of the season and the errors back of him made the bumps fatal. Murphy at short was away off. Monahan was poor on receiving throws at second, although he fielded well in a new position. Harris didn't help him once on an attempted force out by throwing wide to the base.

Lowry tallied one in the first on a pass, stole second, took third on a sacrifice and stole home while Fraser was making up his mind to pitch the ball. Had Ball held the throw he might have had an even chance to nail the runner, but it was like a hot potato. A soldier's choice to Ward, an out and Alcott's single gave the visitors a second score in the fourth. Murphy's error off Caswell started the third tally in the seventh as Lowry sacrificed and the runner went to third on Dyer's out and scored on Mathieu's double-sacker.

The eighth was a nightmare for the league leaders. Laconia got but three hits in the inning, but three errors by the locals enabled the visitors to stretch what would have been two scores into five. Shaw was out, Monahan to Shea, but Brown made his second hit. Alcott rapped to Harris who threw wild to Monahan, perhaps because Monahan was very slow in covering the base. Then Pease rapped for two bases to drop left. To add to the discomfort of the locals Murphy fumbled Caswell's grounder and Lowry thought he would get a bit, which he did. Dyer was satisfied with a sacrifice, which was enough, as Murphy bungled an attempt to get Mathieu's grounder and the fifth tally of the inning was chalked up. Ball got Sullivan, the ninth batter of the inning. This completed the scoring. The result in tabulation:

AFRAID OF THE TERRORISTS.

Police Officers of Odessa Want to Resign or Be Transferred.

St. Petersburg, June 10.—In consequence of the fear inspired by the terrorists at Odessa two police inspectors, five subinspectors and 37 policemen have asked to be allowed to resign or that they be transferred elsewhere. The authorities refused their requests, reminding them that they were receiving double pay and like soldiers in active service were serving the emperor. Therefore it would constitute treason for them to abandon their sacred duty. The bestowal of war medals and bounties are proposed in order to keep the men in the service.

BIG LOCKOUT AT LODZ.

Poznanian Cotton Mills Closed on Account of Murder of Manager.

St. Petersburg, June 10.—Owing to the murder of the manager of the Poznanian cotton mills at Lodz, Russia-Poland, where a strike and serious disturbances occurred some time ago, the shareholders have ordered the dismissal of all the 4,700 workmen and the closing of the works. All the officials of the mills have left Lodz, fearing violence at the hands of the terrorists.

WALKOVER FOR BON-ACCORDS

Defeated Green Mountains at Foot Ball, Score 6 to 2

SCORING BEGAN EARLY

The Bons Seemed to Have the Advantage All Through a One-Sided Game—Ground Was Slippery Because of Rain.

A one-sided game of association football was played at the Rangers' field Saturday afternoon when the Bon-accords team defeated the Green Mountain team by a score of 6 to 2.

The Green Mountains won the toss and Spear kicked off for the Bon-accords. The ball was no more than fairly in play when Brammer started the scoring by kicking a goal for the Bon-accords. This was followed almost immediately by another by Spence.

The game was given and taken for a few minutes when Ingram of the Green Mountains made a try for a kicked goal and Walker of the Bon-accords in an endeavor to head the ball away from the goal put it through accidentally scoring a goal for the Green Mountains.

In a short time A. Freehand kicked the Bon-accords third goal. The two teams played even over the field, which was somewhat slippery because of the rain, but neither side was able to score again before the referee blew the half-time whistle.

The second period was a repetition of the first with the Bon-accords rushing the veterans most of the time. The Green Mountain team played a little faster after L. Clark had scored the fourth goal for the Bon-accords. T. Nichol kicking their second and last goal of the game.

In the last few minutes of play Williamson scored number five for the Bon-accords from a corner kick and was followed almost immediately by number six kicked by Spence. The line-up:

Green Mountains	Bon-accords
McBean, goal	goal, J. Freehand
J. Nichol, back	back, McKernan

Takes a Deep Sea Plunge Under Starting a Plate.

Boston, June 10.—The submarine boat Octopus, under command of Capt. H. M. Munn, after being towed out to a point six miles northwest of Boston lights, Saturday underwent her deep-sea submergence test. Lowered into the sea by a powerful derrick, the Octopus was sunk to a depth of 295 feet, where she rested on the bottom, remaining for 30 minutes. When the submarine was raised, F. Ryan, assistant to the naval constructor at the Fore River shipbuilding works, Capt. Munn, the crew of the Octopus and a number of other officials and reporters who were in attendance on board the tender Sterling boarded the Octopus and inspected her. The boat was found to be in perfect condition, none of her plates having started and not the slightest leak being disclosed.

Rep. Sherman Talks Third Term After a Call at White House.

Washington, June 10.—"New York is for Roosevelt, the country is for him and, in my judgment, he will be nominated and re-elected." These were the words of Representative Sherman of New York, the chairman of the Republican congressional committee, as he was leaving the White House Saturday after an interview with the president. The president, Mr. Sherman said, would not consent to a New York delegation pledged to him to the national convention, but when some other state presents his name they will be there to vote for him.
